

CCP Fellowship Application Assessment Form

Please use this form to record your impressions of applications to the Center for Creative Photography (CCP) Fellowship Program. Scores will be calculated at the end of the review period based on the assessments made in this form. These scores are not determinative but will be used to support the selection committee's decision-making process for awarding fellowships.

In your consideration of the applicants, please keep in mind these key features of the program:

- Through these fellowships, we hope to support research which makes primary and substantive use of CCP collection materials.
- While we continue to welcome projects that utilize our collections in traditional ways, we also wish to expand notions of the kinds of research that can be supported by CCP collections: creative, digital, performance, and more.
- Fellowships may support academics, artists, or others interested in photographic resources, regardless of their experience or educational levels.
- Fellowships should help make work possible for interested parties with limited means of support for independent research.

Reviewer Name:

Applicant Name:

Quality of Project:

	Strong sense of purpose and merit. Clearly articulated research question and description of project goals.	Articulated sense of purpose and merit. Research adequately described. Goals are largely clear.	Unclear or missing sense of purpose or merit. Unfocused or disorganized description of project.
Please select option that best applies to the application

Comments on the quality of the application:

Achievability of the Project:

	Project can be completed in time allotted. Demonstrated understanding of the scope of relevant collections.	Project may be completed in time allotted but may need modest follow-up. Some understanding of the scope of relevant collections.	Unrealistic expectations of time needed to work with collections, or too little/too much material proposed for the project.	Indeterminable based on information provided.
Please select option that best applies to the application

Comments on the achievability of the application:

Contribution of the application to the field and/or public:

	Project is significant to applicant's field of study. Project offers a fresh perspective on a subject and builds on previous scholarship in new ways.	Project is a worthy contribution to applicant's field of study but not necessarily a new or innovative take on the topic.	Project conveys the already well-trodden; is derivative or ill-conceived.
Please select option that best applies to the application

Comments on the contribution of the application to the field and/or public:

Perspective and point of view of the application:

	Project offers an expansive or unique take on applicant's subject and opens new possibilities for discourse. Offers or considers new perspectives.	Project may expand on typical engagement with the applicant's subject and may increase possibilities for discourse. Considers new perspectives.	Project offers typical engagement with the applicant's subject and offers limited possibilities for increasing discourse. New perspectives not well centered.	Project does not expand engagement with the applicant's subject and does not increase discourse. New perspectives not centered.
Please select option that best applies to the application

Comments on the perspective and point of view of the application:

Use of Collections as Described in Application:

	Application makes substantive use of collections in their physical form. Collections are uniquely held by CCP.	Application makes use of collections in their physical form in a reasonable and useful way.	Application makes minimal or unnecessary use of collections. Surrogates would be sufficient for applicant's research.
Please select option that best applies to the application

Comments on Use of Collections as Described in Application:

Is the applicant based outside of Southern Arizona?

	Yes	No	Uncertain
Please select option that best applies to the application

Has the applicant previously received a CCP Fellowship?

	Yes	No	Uncertain
Please select option that best applies to the application

Has the applicant demonstrated financial need?

	Yes	No
Please select option that best applies to the application

For the applicant to complete project effectively, would CCP collections need to be further cataloged or preserved?

	Yes	No	Uncertain
Please select option that best applies to the application

Any additional comments on this application?